Conditional Retail Warranty (Pick-Up) - Important - Please Read! For mail orders, please refer to Conditional Mail Order Warranty below						P	*
1. All plants are guaranteed to be true to name, in good condition when sold, and should grow, providing they receive the correct installation, site conditions, watering and regular care. The use of mulch in the first growing season (April-August) voids the warranty. See detailed planting instructions below.						P	*
2. Plants are a living, perishable product and their survival is directly dependent on the care you provide. Death by lack of care (too dry) or killing with kindness (too wet), or by dog, deer, moose, mouse, rabbit, rototiller, herbicide or hail storm (for example) is not warrantied.						P	*
3. Should the plant fail to survive within 1 year from the date of purchase, Prairie Gardens will provide a one time credit for 50% of the original purchase price toward new product (excluding any delivery and installation costs.) Cedars, vines and borderline hardy plants are guaranteed for 90 days, no later than September 30th of the same year of purchase. Trees/shrubs planted in above-ground level containers are not warrantied. There are no cash refunds on plant material.						P	*
4. Tropical and Zone 4+ Plants (citrus, figs, mulberries, etc.) are not warrantied and are not hardy for Alberta. Perennials are not warrantied - please see zone listing on left-hand side for hardiness.						P	*
Our Warranty is provided under the Following Conditions:						P	*
1. All claims must be reported within one year of purchase.						P	*
2. The original Bill of Sale must be presented as proof of purchase.						P	*
3. The plants must have been properly planted and cared for. Please refer to our planting instructions below. Please note: having a 3rd party install plants on your behalf (contract landscaper, for example) voids the warranty.						P	*

4. The dead plant must be returned. Please don't wait until it has perished before you call! Often some small tweaks can save the plant long before it dies. We are here to help you have success! Call Tam or Laurel -- 780-921-2272 for great horticultural advice!	P	*
Return Policy - Oops! I Changed my mind!	P	*
If you change your mind, please bring back the tree, shrub, vine, or perennial in its original container with all its tags. You will need a copy of your receipt and warranty (if you purchased online, this will have been emailed). Provided the plant is healthy, in good condition, and has never been planted, you are eligible for a full in-store credit . No cash refunds. Damaged or stress-presenting plants are not eligible for any credit. Condition will be determined by a staff member.	P	*
Once planted, a tree, shrub, vine, or perennial cannot be dug up and returned because of our soil biosecurity standards. (No refunds or credits can be provided in this case). So make sure you're sure before planting!	P	*

Planting Instructions	*	*
1. Protect your Trees (Pick up at Farm)	*	*
Trees can easily take several weeks to begin coming out of dormancy in the spring, be patient and keep watering. If they are dormant, they can be transported in the back of a pick-up truck. If they are leafed out, they will need wind protection – ideally a covered van or trailer, or a well secured tarp. Please bring tarps with you when you come to pick-up.	*	*
2. Planting Timeline	*	*
For best results, we recommend planting your trees right away. If you are unable to plant as soon as possible, we suggest putting them in a cool, shady place such the north side of your house, away from sunlight and heat. To make sure the trees don't dry out, make sure to give their roots good drink of water. Maintain moisture in the pot (check daily) until planted. How much water? (Rule of thumb: 1gallon pot – 1 gallon of water. 2 gallon – 2 gallons of water.) - when dry. If already moist, they do not need more. Check with your finger to see.	*	*
3. Break Dormancy	*	*
When you receive dormant material, it will require even moisture and warmer temperatures to break dormancy to begin to plump bud and unfurl leaves. It is ok to plant it dormant – just know it will take some time before it leafs out. It is helpful to wet the stem and branches of the tree to keep the buds from drying out as you water once planted. The temperature of both soil and air directly affect how long a tree takes to “break bud”. Extended periods of below normal temps may delay leaf emergence. Keeping the branches (and buds) moist will help prevent the buds from drying out.	*	*

4. Spacing	*	*
Orchards: full-size apples and pears 18 feet apart ; Apricot and plum trees should be planted 15 feet apart; Dwarf apples or sour cherries can be closer, 6 to 8 feet apart in a row. Berries (Check tag for mature size and space accordingly). For spacing specific varieties, please refer to the tag.	*	*
5. Dig the Hole	*	*
Size of roots will vary with pot sizes. We recommend digging a hole 2 to 4 times wider than the container, and slightly deeper. Bigger is better as it loosens the soil and gives you space to add more topsoil around the roots. You can help your tree grow faster by back filling with good topsoil into a tree hole if your topsoil is scant, you've hit clay, or your soil is very sandy or peat mossy.	*	*
The ultimate goal is to plant the root ball just 1" below the soil surface. If the root ball is sticking out, it will act like a wick and dry the root ball out too quickly. Any deeper, and the roots of the tree will suffocate. Roots need oxygen as much as water, and can't grow back to the surface if planted more than an inch below. Check you are at the right depth by placing the pot in the hole to make adjustments.	*	*
6. Plant the Tree	*	*
Lay the tree on its side on the ground. Pull the pot off if possible or cut it off with a utility knife. It helps to tap the outside of the container to loosen the edge. Carefully slide the tree from the container. Avoid pulling on the tree as this may break your root ball. Be careful not to break the root ball apart. Special note: if roots are circling the bottom of the pot, use a knife to cut through them in 4 places. Do not pull roots out of root ball.	*	*
Lower the root ball into the hole. Check for the right depth, and to ensure tree is straight, not leaning as you backfill soil around the root ball. Pull the soil around the roots, and firm with your hands. Then water in - to make sure there are no air pockets around the roots. Do not compact the soil by stomping it with your feet. Roots need soft soil to grow into easily.	*	*
Do not add bone-meal, straw, chemicals or any other additives to the soil. Do not replant the grass around the tree as it will compete with the tree for moisture, unless it is a sour cherry or a plum. Then plant the grass back, as it will compete for moisture to ensure the tree goes dormant properly in the fall.	*	*
7. Watering	*	*
One of the most important things you can do for new fruit trees is help them to become established in their environment. Once established, fruit trees are practically self-reliant! Construct a water-holding basin around the tree. Slowly add water. As a rule of thumb, for every foot in height, give a gallon of water. We recommend watering every 7 to 10 days during the first year. Soggy roots are dead roots – so don't overdo it. Pay close attention on hot days over 30C.	*	*
Master Gardener tip: Insert your finger about 3" deep into the soil around the root ball every week. If it feels moist – it is ideal. No moisture? Water it. Not sure? Take a long screwdriver and try to push it into the root ball. If it goes in easy – it's too wet. If it won't go in – it's too dry.	*	*
After August 15, start watering them less, and let them slowly dry down and to go dormant (about 2 weeks before killing frost in September). In the fall, after the leaves have fallen off, prior to freeze-up, make sure they have been watered them in very well to have moisture available to them in the spring.	*	*

After year two, fill in your water basin with soil (add a max of 1" per year of soil until it is slightly mounded around the tree trunk). It's important that your new trees or shrubs receive regular waterings for the first two years after planting – called the establishment period. If they dry out to the point their leaves are in a flat wilt or crisp - they can die. Until their roots are established, they are very fragile trees, and they deserve your attention for the investment you have made.	*	*
8. Fertilizing	*	*
Invest in a soil test! In Alberta, the best time to fertilize new fruit trees is in early spring, starting at bud-break and finishing by June 1st. This provides nutrients when trees need them most. Do not fertilize after June 1.	*	*
We recommend using a water soluble root builder 9-45-15 or organic fertilizer mixed in water for immediate uptake to encourage root development for the first 2 years. We do not recommend bone meal, as releases slowly—and encourages late season growth in August, just when your tree should be starting to go dormant. Too late in the season can cause trees to grow when they should be shutting down for the winter. This tender new growth, when pushed too late in the season, is susceptible to winter injury.	*	*
After establishment years, use a balanced organic or water soluble solution: 2-2-2, 5-7-9 or 20-20-20 at label rates prior to June 1st.	*	*
9. Weeding	*	*
We recommend that you keep the weeds away from your seedlings to prevent nutrient and water competition in a 1-2 -foot radius around the tree.	*	*
